

Social Media Community Guidelines

We welcome you to our social media pages and encourage your participation and contribution.

Our social media pages are intended for social information sharing only and are not intended to provide professional or medical advice. If you seek help, please contact a medical professional.

1. Be respectful and contribute to the community To ensure our online communities are constructive, this is a moderated online discussion area. All posts are subject to review. We reserve the right to remove a post. A post that does any of the following is not permitted:

- Attacks other users, promotes bigotry, racism, sexism, hatred or harm against any group or individual, or promotes discrimination based on race, sex, religion, nationality, disability, sexual orientation or age
- Contains inflammatory religious, political content or what we deem to not be appropriate
- Is hateful, tortuous, defamatory or libelous
- References or links to a page or website that may be harmful or not beneficial to the community
- Violates or infringes upon the copyrights, trademarks, privacy, intellectual property, right of publicity or other rights of any person or entity
- Contains language or pictures that contain gratuitous nudity, are sexually explicit, lewd, obscene, graphic and/or potentially offensive to the community
- Solicits community members for businesses, organizations or support unrelated and/or not relevant to the community
- Hijacks a post with unrelated content or is otherwise off-topic
- Promotes alcohol abuse, illegal drugs or substances
- Promotes any activities that may appear unsafe or dangerous
- Is unlawful or in any violation of the law
- If you believe a post is objectionable, please contact socialmedia@commonspirit.org and include a link.

2. Protect your own safety and privacy, and the privacy of others

Protecting your privacy is paramount to us. Accordingly, we ask that you not include any personal information (including your address or phone number) in public posts. For your own privacy, we also advise you to turn off location settings on your device and not to reveal your location or hospital room number on social media in relation to one of our facilities. Should you choose to post your personal information, you do so at your own privacy risk.

It is not permissible to post photos of or identifying information about any of our personnel if you have not received explicit permission from such individuals to do so.

We reserve the right to remove your comment or post, and to block or remove access to repeat offenders of this policy.
